RAEDWALD ACADEMY TRUST

Programme of study and progression outline:

English Key Stage 4

As we are Alternative Provision sites, we cannot assume that a student beginning KS4 has had the opportunity to access fully (if at all) their entitlement to an English programme of study at KS3. However, we hope that, prior to the start of KS4 they have been able to, at least in part, learn skills within the key curriculum areas as follows:

follows: WRITING READING SPEAKING & LISTENING (inc. GRAMMAR & VOCABULARY) reading a wide range of fiction writing for a wide range of speak confidently and Prior learning and non-fiction, including purposes and audiences, effectively, using Standard ✓ English literature, both pre-English, in a range of formal and including: √ formal discussion texts 1914 and contemporary, informal contexts, including: ✓ stories, scripts, poetry and √ classroom discussion including prose, poetry and other imaginative writing √ giving short speeches and drama presentations, expressing √ Shakespeare (two plays) ✓ notes and polished scripts √ seminal world literature for talks and presentations their own ideas and keeping making inferences and referring √ a range of other narrative to the point to evidence in the text and non-narrative texts, ✓ participating in formal including arguments, and debates and structured knowing how language, personal and formal letters discussions including figurative language, √ improvising, rehearsing and using Standard English poetic devices, vocabulary grammar, spelling and performing play scripts and choice, grammar, text structure poetry punctuation accurately and organisational features, presents meaning studying setting, plot, and characterisation, and the effects of these

Taught content: Knowledge/Skills

RAEDWALD ACADEMY TRUST

Programme of study and progression outline:

English Key Stage 4

To complement a given examination syllabus (Functional Skills Level 1/2 or GCSE English Language and possibly English Literature, depending on what an individual is ready for), students should be given opportunities across the key curriculum areas to:

Reading

- learn to read easily, fluently and with good understanding
- develop the habit of reading widely and often, for both pleasure and information
- acquire a wider vocabulary through reading
- develop inference skills and critical thinking through reading
- improve understanding of grammar and knowledge of linguistic conventions through reading
- appreciate our rich and varied literary heritage

Students should:

- read/be exposed to a range of literature and non-fiction, such as essays, reviews and journalism
- have the opportunity to read:
 - ✓ at least one play by Shakespeare
 - ✓ writing from the 19th, 20th and 21st centuries
 - ✓ a range of poetry since 1789, including some Romantic poetry
- be taught to make comparisons between texts in terms of content, context, theme and style
- learn to summarise and synthesise information from different types of text
- be taught to recognize the impact of a text's social and historical context on its interpretation
- practise identifying and interpreting themes, ideas and information
- explore aspects of plot, characterisation, events and settings, the relationships between them and their effects
- learn to find evidence within a text to support a point of view, including justifying inferences with evidence
- practise distinguishing between statements that are supported by evidence and those that are not, identifying bias and misuse of evidence
- learn how to analyse a writer's choice of vocabulary, form, grammatical and structural features, and evaluate the effect/ impact of writer's choices
- make critical comparisons, referring to the contexts, themes, characterisation, style and literary quality of texts, and drawing on knowledge and skills from their wider experience
- be aware of multiple interpretations of textual information

RAEDWALD ACADEMY TRUST

Programme of study and progression outline:

English Key Stage 4

To complement a given examination syllabus (Functional Skills Level 1/2 or GCSE English Language and possibly English Literature, depending on what an individual is ready for), students should be given opportunities across the key curriculum areas to:

Writing

- learn to write clearly and coherently
- spell and use grammar and punctuation accurately
- adapt vocabulary and style for a range of contexts, purposes and audiences

Students should:

- adapt their writing for a wide range of purposes and audiences: to describe, narrate, explain, instruct, give and respond to information, and argue
- select and organize ideas, facts and key points, and citing evidence, details and quotation effectively and pertinently for support and emphasis
- use vocabulary, grammar, form, and structural and organisational features, including rhetorical devices, to suit audience, purpose and context
- use Standard English where appropriate

Speaking & Listening

 understand and use the conventions of presentation, debate and discussion so they can become competent speakers and listeners

Students should:

- make formal presentations
- participate in debate
- use discussion in order to learn; they should be able to elaborate and explain clearly their understanding and ideas
- listen and respond appropriately in all contexts above

Subsequent learning

At the end of Key Stage 4, students are able to choose their next educational/training step and this may include an individual proceeding to study English further at A level, or may instead involve them using the KS4 curriculum they have been exposed to supporting them in the following ways:

READING	WRITING (inc. GRAMMAR & VOCABULARY)	SPEAKING & LISTENING
 Accessing course material for future study/qualifications Understanding legal documents eg terms & conditions Make value judgements about the quality and veracity of the information they are reading 	 Job applications Assignments for future qualifications 	 Job interviews Customer facing roles

Taught content: Knowledge/Skills

RAEDWALD ACADEMY TRUST Programme of study and progression outline: English Key Stage 4

