

RAEDWALD TRUST
REVISED SCHEME OF DELEGATION DECEMBER 2020

Trustees are the key decision makers of the Learning & Education Committee.

Communication between the Trust and the local sites, is key, hence why the Committees would meet on a twice termly basis.

There would also be an annual monitoring programme which members of the Committee would be involved in completing with their nominated academy site.

- The board of trustees is responsible for the three core governance functions.
- The board of trustees appoint the chief executive (CEO), to whom it delegates responsibility for delivery of its vision and strategy, and will hold the CEO to account for the conduct and performance of the trust, including the performance of the academies within the trust, and for its financial management.
- In turn, the CEO line manages other senior executives and the Trust headteachers, setting their targets and performance managing them.
- The board delegates some of its school level monitoring and scrutinising functions to the sub Committees for Learning & Education and Finance, Resources & Audit, and uses these to promote stakeholder engagement and as a point of consultation and representation. Trustees can link to the sub Committees and local academy sites.
- As the headteacher is being line managed by the CEO, the sub committee for Learning & Education must be confident that the trust's performance management systems are working well, and if not, how they can make the trust aware of their concerns.

Roles and responsibilities

The role of the members

The members of the trust are guardians of the governance of the trust and as such have a different status from trustees. Originally, they will have been the signatories to the memorandum of association and will have agreed the trust's first articles of association (the legal document which outlines the governance structure and how the trust will operate). The articles of association describe how members are recruited and replaced, and how many of the trustees the members can appoint to the trust board. The members appoint trustees to ensure that the trust's charitable object is carried out and so must be able to remove trustees if they fail to fulfil this responsibility. Accordingly, the trust board submits an annual report on the performance of the trust to the members. Members are also responsible for approving any amendments made to the trust's articles of association.

There must be at least three members, although the DfE prefer at least five, and while members are permitted to be appointed as trustees, in order to retain a degree of separation of powers between the members and the trust board, and in line with DfE expectations, not all members should be trustees. Members are not permitted to be employees of the academy trust. The members for Raedwald Trust are highlighted on the Trust website. Currently there are 5 members.

The role of the trustees

The trustees are responsible for the general control and management of the administration of the trust, and in accordance with the provisions set out in the memorandum and articles of association and its funding agreement, it is legally responsible and accountable for all statutory functions, for the performance of all schools within the trust, and must approve a written scheme of delegation of financial powers that maintains robust internal control arrangements. In addition, it must carry out the three core governance functions:

1. Ensure clarity of vision, ethos and strategic direction
2. Hold the executive to account for the educational performance of the trust's schools and their pupils, and the performance management of staff
3. Oversee the financial performance of the trust and make sure its money is well spent

The board of trustees has the right to review and adapt its governance structure at any time which includes removing delegation. The names of the Trustees of Raedwald Trust are highlighted on the website.

The role of trust board committees

Please note that currently the Raedwald Trust has a small number of committees, and these will be reviewed annually.

The current model is to ensure clear oversight of performance of the individual academy sites and that the trust is financially viable and sustainable. The Learning and Education Committee has a change in focus to ensure that the Trust remain informed of the current performance of each site.

The role of the chief executive officer (CEO)

The CEO has the delegated responsibility for the operation of the trust including the performance of the trust's academies and so the CEO performance manages the academy headteachers.

The CEO is the accounting officer so has overall responsibility for the operation of the academy trust's financial responsibilities and must ensure that the organisation is run with financial effectiveness and stability; avoiding waste and securing value for money.

The CEO leads the executive management team of the academy trust. The CEO will delegate executive management functions to the executive management team and is accountable to the trust board for the performance of the executive management team.

The role of the academy headteacher

The academy headteacher is responsible for the day to day management of the academy and is managed by the chief executive. Details of the academy headteachers can be found on the individual academy websites.
